Question of Cyprus

Security Council
Sixty-second year

Letter dated 21 February 2007 from the Permanent Representative of Cyprus to the United Nations addressed to the Secretary-General

In accordance with instructions received from my Government, I have the honour to refer to the letter dated 28 December 2006 from the Chargé d'affaires a.i. of the Permanent Mission of Turkey to the United Nations addressed to you (A/61/686-S/2006/1037), transmitting in the annex thereto a letter from the purported "deputy prime minister and minister for foreign affairs" of the legally invalid "Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus" on the alleged issue of "rearmament efforts" of the Republic of Cyprus.

The Government of the Republic of Cyprus rejects the deliberate and preposterous fabrications contained in the aforementioned letter and considers them yet another by-proxy attempt by Turkey to divert attention from its own responsibilities as the occupying Power of approximately one third of the territory of another Member of the United Nations Organization.

The aggressor accusing his victim of taking measures to defend itself constitutes in fact the ultimate expression of provocation. As stated in an earlier report of the Secretary-General (S/1995/1020), Turkey has transformed the occupied northern part of Cyprus into "one of the most densely militarized areas in the world". In that respect, it should be noted that, according to reliable sources and as evidenced by public statements of the Deputy Chief of the Turkish National Defence General Staff reported by CNN TURK on 8 December 2006, Turkey illegally stations in Cyprus the 11th Army Corps, consisting of 42,500 troops and comprising the following:

- The 39th Mechanized Infantry Division
- The 28th Mechanized Infantry Division
- The 14th Armoured Brigade
- The Mechanized Infantry Regiment of the Turkish Force in Cyprus
- The Special Forces Regiment
- The artillery regiment
- The naval component

The Turkish occupation forces in Cyprus are armed with the latest technology in military equipment and weaponry, as follows:

Main battle tanks	296
M48A5C (training)	9
M48A5T1/T2	287
Armoured personnel carriers/armoured infantry battle vehicles	677
Armoured personnel carriers — M113	361
Armoured personnel carriers — NUROL	90
Armoured infantry battle vehicles — NUROL	126
Armoured personnel carriers — Mortar trnsp. M106/NUROL	100
Artillery guns	212
(a) Towed	96
M-115 203 mm	12
M-59 155 mm	12
M-114A2 155 mm	36
M-101A1 105 mm	36
(b) Self-propelled	108
M-52T 155 mm	66
M-44T 155 mm	42
(c) Multiple rocket launchers T-122 mm	8
Anti-tank weapon systems	609
TOW (MSL)	48
MILAN (MSL)	72
M-40A1 106 mm	429
KONKURZ	60
Mortars	592
M-30 107 mm (4.2") MOR	142
HY-12 120 mm MOR	171
81 mm MOR	279
Air defence systems	299
RHIMENTAL/GAI DOI 20 mm	48
OERLIKON 35 mm	36
STINGER/REDEY	215
Warships	10
Coastal patrol vessels	9
Landing craft LCM	1
General purpose helicopters (Cougar AS-532)	2

It should be emphasized that, in 2005, Turkey completed a restructuring programme of its occupation forces in Cyprus, which was based on the upgrading of the infantry into mechanized infantry. Since then, Turkey has been constantly upgrading the military equipment and weaponry of its occupation forces in Cyprus through, inter alia, the replacement of M48A5T1 battle tanks with the technologically advanced M48A5T2, the acquisition of NUROL armoured personnel carriers and armoured fighting vehicles, the replacement of 105-mm towed artillery guns with 155-mm self-propelled guns, the increase in the number of 122-mm multiple rocket launchers, the upgrading of the light air defence artillery to squadrons and the forthcoming reinforcement of the coastal patrol with another two vessels.

The militaristic approach of Turkey to the Cyprus problem constitutes a serious breach of international law, including the Charter of the United Nations and relevant resolutions, such as Security Council resolution 353 (1974), in which the Council called for “the withdrawal without delay from the Republic of Cyprus of foreign military personnel present otherwise than under the authority of international agreements”; General Assembly resolution 37/253 of 13 May 1983, in which the Assembly deplored the fact that “part of the territory of the Republic of Cyprus is still occupied by foreign forces” and considered “the withdrawal of all occupation forces from the Republic of Cyprus as an essential basis for a speedy and mutually acceptable solution of the problem of Cyprus”; and Security Council resolution 1251 (1999), in which the Council called for the reduction of all troops and armaments in Cyprus as a first step towards the withdrawal of non-Cypriot forces, in order to help restore confidence between the two sides.

It is high time for the Government of Turkey to take heed of both the call of the international community and the will of Turkish Cypriots and Greek Cypriots to build their common future on the basis of mutual trust, security and respect.

I should be grateful if you would have the present letter circulated as a document of the General Assembly, under agenda item 19, and of the Security Council.
