Report of Portugal on the implementation of Security Council resolution 2375 (2017)

I. Introduction

The Government of Portugal is committed to implementing Security Council resolution 2375 (2017) and all previous Council sanctions resolutions on the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, namely, resolutions 1718 (2006), 1874 (2009), 2087 (2013), 2094 (2013), 2270 (2016), 2321 (2016), 2356 (2017) and 2371 (2017), as well as to fully cooperating with the Security Council Committee established pursuant to resolution 1718 (2006).

Portugal has taken the legislative and executive measures necessary to implement all Security Council sanctions resolutions on the Democratic People's Republic of Korea.

Portugal, as a member of the European Union, has also implemented the restrictive measures imposed in the Security Council sanctions resolutions, following the integration of those measures into the European Union legal order and the corresponding European Union decisions and regulations.

II. Background

Article 8 (3) of the Constitution of the Portuguese Republic provides for the direct integration into the Portuguese legal framework of measures adopted by the competent bodies of international organizations, including the Security Council, provided that a provision to that effect is laid down in the respective constituent treaties. Therefore, sanctions designations pursuant to resolution 2375 (2017) and previous resolutions are directly applicable in Portugal.

Security Council resolutions are transposed into the Portuguese legal framework through decisions and regulations of the Council of the European Union. In accordance with European Union law, such decisions and regulations take immediate and direct effect in all national laws of States members of the European Union. The regulations have general application and are binding in their entirety on European Union citizens and businesses. Moreover, the decisions are binding in their entirety on those to which they are addressed, that is, all European Union member States (article 288 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union). All European Union restrictive measures are published in the Official Journal of the European Union.

III. Measures taken to implement resolution 2375 (2017)
